Discerning Discs

by Henry Dunakin

"Ein Heldenleben", highly controversial tone poem of Richard Strauss, comes to us this week in two quite different interpretations. First to be considered is the Capitol-Telefunken revival, played by Amsterdam's Concertgebouw Orchestra under the perfected guidance of Willem Mengelberg. This is more accurately shaded than any recorded performance heard before. It may well be due to the fact that the composition itself was dedicated to Mr. Mengelberg and that he kept it active yearly. As is known, the score calls for a featured violin, which carries on a consistent discussion with the orchestra. Ferdinand Helman, soloist, gives a sensitive reading to his role, while the conductor exemplifies unbelievable control over the orchestra's tumultuous passages. The tempi are Germanic - well-paced, precise, and marcato. The second recording of the "Hero" is with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra directed by Sir Thomas Beecham (HMV). Oscar Lampe, soloist, does not have the feeling required, nor does the true message of the music itself rise above a cloudy, meandering cluster of diffusion.

Two more Strauss contributions come from Deutsche Grammophon. First, another suite of waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier." On this disc, the composer waves the baton, giving once and for all the authoritative dictum as to how the music should be transmitted. Indeed, a new spice is evident: less syrup and far more brandy. Second disc is "Salome's Dance." All possibilities of this work are exploited here by Herbert von Karajan, leaving us with the conglomerate emotions of horror, pleasure, violence, and exhaustion.

COPLAND

Any work by this man is vital! He never wastes his time nor yours. The "Sonata for Violin and Piano, 1943," as presented by Concert Hall's Limited Series, is a most definitive reading. Louis Kaufman, violinist, holds a masterful understanding of modern music and stands consistently as a flawless technician. When his role is shared by the music's composer, also subject to the same qualifications, a collector's item can but result. Here is a performance that should be made available to the general public.

ALLESSANDRO SCARLATTI

The "Concerto Grosso in F Minor" is a work of true beauty and high importance. Scarlatti survives primarily in the pages of history books. Even there, only his operatic ventures have a just amount of space.

The "Concerto Grosso in F Minor" is a work of true beauty and high importance. Scarlatti survives primarily in the pages of history books. Even here, only his operatic ventures have a just amount of space. His innovations to the orchestra were flaunting for his era, and their influence on the geniuses of the 18th century must not be overlooked. This disc is our first chance really to hear what he had to say. The melodic flow is penetrating, while daring harmonies are hidden throughout. Edmund Weyns leads the Wiesbaden Collegium Musicum with intellectual command. Another bouquet to Capitol for its Telefunken release.

Cloward Painting Picked For Fair

An oil painting by James L. Cloward, Carmel Art Institute, Carmel, has been selected for showing in the private art school division of the college art contest at the California State Fair, in Sacramento, Sept. 1 through 11. The title of the painting is "Commodore Sloat U.S.N. Raises Flag at Customs House, Monterey, 1846."

Claudia Cast Announced

When the Forest Theatre Guild presents Rose Franken's gay comedy, "Claudia", Aug. 12, 13 and 14, Miss Nancy Brown will be seen in the title role with Lionel Goulet as her devoted "David".

Forrest Barns, the director, has done an outstanding job in the supporting cast which includes: Betty MacDougal as Claudia's mother; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Craig of Pacific Grove as the servant folk; Betty Stitt as the opera diva; Ellen Leeds as Julie and George Calvert as - the other man. Mr. Burns is assisted by Judy Campbell. Mary Caluori and Helen Prosser are handling publicity. Mr. David Prince is the producer.

Injury Postpones Menuhin Concert

Yaltah Menuhin, pianist, whose concert was scheduled here with Israel Baker Saturday night, suffered a "slight accident" this week and her concert has been postp ned for a week or two, according to the Denny-Watrous management. The physician reportedly said a "slight injury to Miss Menuhin's hand" will postpone the concert a week or perhaps two weeks. An announcement will be made soon as to when the concert will take place.

Commander Howell Armor, of the Carmel Crafts Guild is shown carving his black walnut Tahitian bench, "Native God Kane and Godess Wahine." Commander Armor will be seen working on the same piece at the Monterey County Fair as part of the Crafts-in-Action exhibit.

NEW BOOK FEATURES MORTON SKETCHES

Charlotte A. Morton, renowned for her pen and ink drawings of Carmel and the Peninsula, 4 of which appeared on the cover of the SPECTATOR Bach Festival Souvenir edition, has won wide mention for her study of sunflowers on the prize winning book, Kansas Wild Flowers, by Dr. W.C. Stevens, for many years head of the Department of Botany, University of Kansas.

Dr. Stevens, now 87 years old and retired, spent 12 years in writing the much discussed volume.

Set Deadline On Art Entries

The deadline for submission of paintings at the Carmel Art Association for the Centennial Show is Sunday, before 5 p.m., according to Nelly Montague, curator of the Carmel Art Galleries.

Your CONGRESSMAN REPORTS

ERNEST K. BRAMBLETT, M. C.

Everybody in the House of Representatives, Democrats and Republicans alike, has a very high regard for Speaker Sam Rayburn. One of his best personal friends is Congressman Joe Martin of Massachusetts, who was the speaker of the last Congress. Rayburn's fairness and integrity are admired by all. Being the speaker of the house is a big job in itself as many difficult rulings must be made on short notice. When you add to that burden the fact that the speaker is the clearing house for legislation desired by the president, you can imagine the monumental job which falls on the speaker's shoulders.

A lot of us have a sneaking suspicion that Sam Rayburn would handle things a lot differently if he could be absolutely independent. Some of the half baked proposals sent to Congress, simply for political purposes and with no thought of ever having them passed, wouldn't be clogging up the legislative calendar if Sam Rayburn ran the show himself. But Sam Rayburn is a member of a political organization and he is a good soldier as good soldiers must be. It is amusing, however, to see some of the administration brain trusters put in a hurry up call for Sam Rayburn when they get into trouble. Their cause, of course, has to be almost hopelessly lost before they will deign to call in somebody who knows the temper of Congress. If Rayburn never does another thing, he already has snatched enough hopeless causes from defeat to earn him the everlasting gratitude of this administration. Realizing the spot that he is one, enabled us the other day to be amused rather than indignant when, in effect he ruled we are still at war. The question came up this way: The Legislative Reorganization Act passed by the 79th Congress which was a Democratic Congress by the way, as is this one, provides that Congress shall adjourn on July 31 unless we are at war or a state of national emergency exists. There was a very good reason for placing that provision in the law. The thought was that Congress should realize that it has an all year job to do, not a part time activity as used to be the case. With adjournment set for July 31, it could arrange an orderly legislative schedule and not be pressured into passing a poorly conceived program in order to close up shop and go home. Well, the essence of Speaker Rayburn's ruling was that the July 31 provision of the act didn't apply because the nation still is at war! If you see any Jap bombers, please notify the National Defense, in Washington at once. That was just another case of Rayburn being a good soldier. Everybody knows that he knows the war is over, but the feeling is growing that the administration doesn't, as it continues to conjure up emergency after emergency.

Since I wrote last, the House of Representatives has passed a bill for the abolition of the poll tax as a requirement for voting. This is one of the key bills in the Civil Rights program which the Majority Party talked about so much in 1948 and has done so little about in 1949. Maybe a political Campaign in 1948 had something to do with it. The feeling is that this bill certainly will be killed in the Senate by a filibuster and the responsibility will be that of the majority party because it will be its members who will talk the bill to death. The poll tax is un American and it is shameful that it can't be abolished because of inter-party strife in the majority party.

KNIGHT TO ATTEND MONTEREY FAIR

Lt. Governor Goodwin Knight last week confirmed by telephone to County Supervisor A. B. Jacobson arrangements for appearance at the opening ceremonies of the Monterey County Fair, scheduled for August 27 at Monterey. Mr. J. F. van Loben Sels, president of the Fair, stated that Knight would take part in opening activities together with the winner of the "Centennial Queen" contest now being conducted.

Mr. Aldo Tognetti, vice-president of the Fair Board, announced that the lieutenant-governor would also take part in the opening of the Fair Horse Show at 8 P.M. Saturday evening. His remarks will precede the second of eight performances planned by the Horse Show Committee, under the chairmanship of Jim Glaser, of Pebble Beach.

Winding Through CARMEL VALLEY

Doin's An' Stuff

JANET BUCHANAN ARNOLD

Last weekend the Valley probably housed and amused more people than ever before in its history. Saturday and Sunday nights for the showing of the old movies in the new Horse Trough Flicker Room several hundred persons turned out each night. Thirty-seven flyers from the San Jose Garden City Flying Club spent Sunday at Holman's eating turkey, swimming and riding. Next Sunday, 67 flyers from the Santa Cruz Airmen's Association are expected to spend the day in a similar fashion. The flyers have worked out a system of circling the barn to let the boys know they are here and then by the time they have landed Big Bob and Little Bob have had time to get down with horses and a station wagon to take them to the ranch in a more prosaic way. Mrs. Lombard, of Carmel Valley Inn, entertained a party of friends at Holman's Sunday, proving once more the community spirit which is flourishing, or, to be accurate, which is beginning to flourish in our Valley.

Good news was the result of the last meeting of the trustees of the Tularcitos School Board. The tax rate was lowered from 80 cents to 60 cents and there will be no additional taxes this year for the bond issue. There was no news about the plans for the new - or rather proposed school building. It is doubtful if even the "red tape" involved in the spending of public funds for such a building would cause the lack of action which appears to be permanent at this point.

The new Riding Club continues to be a strong active organization with a consistent weekly attendence of 40 interested horsemen and women. At last week's meeting a board of directors was elected, including Mrs. Louise Hatton, Fred Fellow, George Dollar and Bill Dorrance. It was decided to let the newly elected board draw up the by-laws for the club, decide on the geographic boundaries limiting membership, and present these to the general membership for a final decision. Plans for the big show on Aug. 21 will be made in the various horse show committees. The children's classes will be open, but it was decided that the roping would be restricted to members and their guests. There will be prizes and trophies for the following events:

First class: trail horse, fee 50 cents; second class, calf riding, open to children, 12-16 years, no fee; third class: stake race, open to children, no fee; fourth class: single steer roping, fee $2.50; fifth class: musical chairs, no fee; sixth class: stake race, adults, fee $1.00; eighth class: special event; ninth class: horsemanship, children under 14, fee 50 cents; tenth class: calf roping, fee $2.50; eleventh class: grab bag race, no fee; twelfth class: stock horse, open, fee $1.00; thirteenth class: team roping, fee $2.50 per man.

The Valley owes much to the Morris Hanssens, who from a barren field of dirt have created a garden of beauty. The Hanssens came from Belgium, where they learned the art of growing begonias. Their begonia garden, now at the peak of its season, is truly an experience not to be missed. The colors, quiet atmosphere, and immaculate grounds, plus the knowledge that two years ago none of these existed, make it a memorable visit. Mr. Hanssen's business is retail and he has customers from all over the country. He has fuchsias, hydrangeas and cut flowers, but the begonias steal the show.

There were several Valley entries at the Pebble Beach Show on Sunday. Mr. Mathiott showed two of his beautiful Arabian horses winning a place each time. Donna Phillips was a winner too, riding her lovely, well-mannered stallion, Riffrand. Barbara Horne rode Mr. Mathiott's horse, Aloni, as well as her own Arabian. Also riding were Diana Horne, Sheila Buchanan, and Roy Fellows, Jr., who got second in the Stake race. Charles Harper and Marion Pike were spectators.

The Alpha Chi Omegas, a top national sorority, held an afternoon party at Los Laureles Lodge last week. Cocktails were served around the pool before luncheon, which was followed by swimming, bridge and lazy sunning. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark, of Pebble Beach, entertained a party of their friends at Los Laureles with cocktails, dinner and dancing Saturday night. Mrs. Roy Warner, Claire Warner, Mrs. O. W. Irwin, Mrs. D. MacMillan Kerr, Mrs. Allan Green, Mrs. B. C. Landon and Mrs. Audrey Tetley were also visiting the Lodge.

Mrs. C. C. Baker, of San Francisco and Salinas, is visiting the Frank Porters and acting as hostess for the New Del Monte Country Club. There were many parties at the Club over the weekend, including one Mrs. DeSerpa and daughter, Mae, gave for Mrs. H. H. Thurlby, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Anthony Marino entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. Dicus, of Freemont, Nebraska, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tilton at lunch.

There was a party at Betty Ann Sherman's Saturdzy night to housewarm for the Smiths. Those who helped celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marshal, Mr. and Mrs. Stripmatter and guest, Miss Lombard; Mr. and Mrs. Boots Parsons, Vi Baus, Hal Graham, F. C. Smith, Leo Tanous, Margie Kiley, Mr. and Mrs. Willmont; Betty Ann and Ralph Gilman.

Norman S. Buchanan, a director of the Rockefeller Foundation, is visiting his daughters, Sheila and Leigh Buchanan, for a few days.

Edith Stebbins, of Carmel, is visiting Jeffry Julian Arnold this week.

Rex Sporleder, who recently purchased 20 acres from K. D. Mathiott, has just completed a house and also a barn with 15 stalls for B. Clark and family, who move in this week. Mr. Clark is a famous horse trainer and the Valley is indeed fortunate to have his experience available. Mr. Sporleder will build his house soon.

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK OF AUGUST 11

Thursday Aug. 11 - Chinese dinner at Holman's. Call for reservations.

Friday Aug. 12 - Folk dancing at The Farm Center.

Saturday Aug. 13 - Movies at Los Laureles Barn - "Foreign Correspondent."
Movies at Holman's Horse Trough Flickers: "Tillie's Punctured Romance."

Sunday Aug. 14 - Same movies as Saturday night.
Luncheon on the lawn, buffet style, at Los Laureles Lodge.

Wednesday Aug. 17 - Lessons in leathercraft at The Craft Center at The White Oak Inn.

Marie Dressler, above, is featured in "Tillie's Punctured Romance," showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Horse Trough Flickers, Holman's Guest Ranch. Charlie Chaplin plays her lover and the famous Keystone Cops are also featured. Lots of pie throwing and mud slinging is promised. Holman's ran 60 percent over audience capacity last week, and 20 more bales of hay have been secured for seating, a method that seemed to be preferred to benches last week,

Let's All Help

Fred Gouwin, of Carmel, has been working for a Carmel Youth Center for many months. He has worked quietly and effectively, and it looks like ground will be broken next week for the project.

Mr. Gouwin is a busy man, yet he has given his time in such a way that the Youth Center is now almost a reality. If other residents will follow his example - particularly builders, plumbers, electricians, lumbermen and retailers - the Youth Center will be a reality.

It is fine to congratulate, but in this case even better to emulate. Mr. Gouwin has set us a good example.

Business Personalities

Ernest F. Morehouse

Native Californian Ernest F. Morehouse first came to Carmel in 1930 when he assisted in the opening of the Monterey office of American Automobile Association. Two and one-half years later he went into the real estate and insurance business, and his office on Ocean Avenue has been the business office for the annual Bach Festival.

Mr. Morehouse was in the lumber business prior to World War 1, at which time he entered the air corps. A ground officer in charge of lubrication at Rockwell Field Flying School, North Island, he was discharged at a time when General H. "Hap" Arnold was a colonel and his commanding officer. His experience in reclaiming oil with the air corps led to his working at the Richmond refineries of Standard Oil Co., and it was in Richmond that he met his wife, the former Gertrude Gracie. They were married in 1925 and have one daughter, Alice, 20k a senior at College of Pacific.

"Last year," he says, "I became old enough to start playing golf." But before that, up to two years ago, Mr. Morehouse had been a pitcher in the Abalone League. He also goes in for stream fishing in a big way.

Currently president of the Carmel Board of Realtors, Mr. Morehouse is a charter member of the Carmel Lions Club and served from 1946-48 as a deputy district governor for that organization. He is a past commander of the Carmel American Legion, Post 512.

Mr. Morehouse is a popular guy around town. He talks well, and does so very effectively when discussing a recent trip he made on an Essex class aircraft carrier.

Ask him about it some time.

Amateur Gardener Here's Your Chance !

All amateur gardeners in the counties of San Benito, Monterey, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and San Luis Obispo are urged to enter their choice potted plants, cut flowers, specimen flowers and flower arrangements in the Monterey County Fair, Aug. 27-30, at Monterey.

Unusual preparations for handling entries have been arranged with nearly 100 feet for table space provided for display which will be easily seen by all visitors.

Flower arrangements will be housed in a special greenhouse 40 by 18 feet, and the entire floriculture building will be covered with tobacco cloth to prevent leaves falling from oak trees overhead and protect the blooms from direct sunlight.

ELWOOD NAMED TO HOOVER CITIZENS COMMITTEE POST

John W. Elwood, general manager of Radio Station KNBC and president of the Down Town Association of San Francisco, was appointed Northern California Chairman of the Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report today by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, National Chairman of the Committee and president of Temple University.

"The Hoover Report hits every American in two vital spots — his pocketbook and the future of his kids and country," declared Elwood in accepting the appointment, "and that's why every American, man or woman, should tell his congressman that the Hoover Commission's recommendations should be put into law."

"The Hoover Commission has carefully charted a reorganization of the executive branch of our federal government that could mean a savings of four billion dollars annually in the federal budget and the tax bills we pay either directly or indirectly. Further, this reorganization would streamline the government and vastly increase its efficiency."

"Putting the Hoover Report into action is the most important single step this nation can take to assure our continued progress," Elwood continued. "And that's what the Citizens' Committee for the Hoover Report is out to do. But it's a job for all Americans and we're calling on all Americans to do the job."

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

The two-way view which a curator obtains of the producer of art, and the beholder of art with the product itself in between, covers quite a wide sweep, and discovers much interesting material not immediately visible, if ever, to the painter on one hand, or the looker on the other. In extreme cases the view of the artist and the beholder are as wide apart as that which might be obtained by a scientist and an ant, contemplating a carefully concocted confection and this is no reflection on the ant for no one has a deeper appreciation and enjoyment of sweets than an ant nor can apply them more directly to the greater enhancement of his living. On the other hand, scientists have been known to become so engrossed in tensions, balances, reactions, etc., as to not only forget to eat their meals but to be unaware that flavoring had been omitted.

It sometimes seems that the human side of art is ludicrously and pathetically a near counterpart of the present world social situation. Art groups often behave like the United Nations - fears and suspicions nullifying much, conservatives holding back and resenting the radicals, radicals withdrawing, suspecting conservatievs, leaving a no-man's land, willing to support any vital plant, but going barren, poisoned by suspicion.

Let us not allow our own rich peninsula to lose its proper heritage for this very reason - a region that could cooperate to realize the finest art expression anywhere in America - Why not do it?

Sincerely
Nelly Montague

B-36 Probe May Change Defense Policy of U. S.

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Best Capitol Hill opinion is that the congressional investigation of the B-36 will disclose no major scandals but may greatly affect the national defense.

The probe will be conducted by the House armed services committee which has been directed by the House to make a searching inquiry into the controversy surrounding the Air Force's giant six-engine bomber.

Charges of irregularities in purchase have involved such prominames as Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and Air Force Secretary Stuart Symington, but there is nothing to indicate that these men acted in other than forthright manner.

Washington

However, the Air Force concept of warfare, its great reliance upon strategic bombing, its belief that war in the air belongs solely to USAF—no part to the Navy—will undergo severe scrutiny by the committee.

If the committee rejects the Air Force thesis then the entire concept of warfare by American military forces may have to be changed.

Television for Everybody Still Several Years Away

● NO TV CHANGES—No extensive expansion of the nation's television stations or facilities can be expected for a long time—possibly three years—despite the government's recent proposals to broaden the TV field.

In the first place the government's plans are just proposals—nothing more. A public hearing will be held late in August at which industry officials will be heard to determine if the proposals are practicable.

Secondly, putting the program into effect would make obsolete all the television sets being used unless they are modified.

Thirdly, the Federal Communications Commission's plans for making available 42 new television channels by using the ultra-high frequency band along with the present very high frequency has to be tested extensively.

Eventually the government in co-operation with the television industry may achieve its ambitious goal of bringing television to nearly 2,000 cities and communities, but it will take time.

Television for everyone is not around the corner—it is years away.

Judy Coplon's "Michael" Still Puzzles

● MYSTERIOUS MICHAEL—Who is Michael? That's a question that still has the FBI baffled despite its months of investigation of Judith Coplon and the 10-week trial that resulted in her conviction as a spy for Russia.

"Michael" first came to light in one of the famous "purse papers"—notes found in the ex-government girl's purse the night of her arrest.

The paper described her efforts to secure a "top secret" FBI report on "Soviet and Communist Intelligence Activities in the United States." In it she remarked that she had "described" the report to "Michael."

In her defense, Miss Coplon said first that "Michael" referred to the Archangel Michael in the Bible's Book of Revelations. Later she said it referred to a fictional "Michael Smith" who was to be a character in a book she said she was writing.

The FBI, and apparently the jury, rejected these explanations. Government officials admit privately they have no idea who "Michael" was.

However, others close to the case believe "Michael" was simply a cover name for Valentin Gubitchev, the Russian engineer who the government says was Miss Coplon's Soviet spy contact.

The SPECTRE

by Cerf Andsand.

Last December the SPECTATOR placed in each copy of the paper a business reply envelope to make it easy for possible subscribers to place their orders for subscriptions. Many of theee were returned promotly by those who wished to become charter subscribers. Other replies have been coming in from time to time, although more sporadically.

The long-time record is now held by Mrs. Edith E. Larson, of Box 84, Carmel. Mrs. Larson penned the following words on the inside of the business reply envelope:

"Did not send this when I should have as I doubted your paper would continue to be so good - but you fooled me! It's better!"

I kiss your hand, Mrs. Larson.

We are accepting your subscription at the charter rate and the publisher has asked me to state that he will accept any other subscriptions accompanied by one of the original business envelopes.

Forty-seven peninsulites last week sent a letter to Dr. D. T. Mac Dougal, head of the Monterey County Humane Society, calling for a general meeting of the group. They said they were dissatisfied with the way the SPCA affairs have been handled in these parts. Published as it was in local newspapers, (a SPECTATOR scoop incidentally) the letter caused some excitement around the Peninsula.

Latest laugh is that a higher-up in the board of directors, the body against which the charges are actually leveled, said recently he could have stopped the newspapers from printing the letter if he had wanted to.

Hardly worthy of comment.

Has anyone noticed:

How heavy the surf has been down at the beach recently? That many of the chuck holes in Carmel streets have been filled (especially, in the vicinity of the Pine Inn)? How calm opposing factions have been regarding the three paying guests controversy? That the sun has been shining?

As long as the City Council has moved the traffic signs on Route 1 in such a way that all unknowing traffic is directed down Ocean Avenue rather than Carpenter Street, why doesn't someone ask the council to change the stop sign at the intersection of the two streets? It seems to me that Carpenter Street traffic should be stopped rather than that of Ocean Avenue, at least, as long as the heavy traffic flows down the latter street.

Of course, some people are asking why the direction signs were changed at all ...

Dinner-Dance In New Surf Room

The newly constructed Surf Room at The Beach Club, Pebble Beach, will open tomorrow night with a dinner dance open to the public.

The attractive new building with its magnificent view of Stillwater Cove and Point Lobos, was designed by Gardner A. Dailey, and Mrs. Robert Kasper of San Francisco is responsible for the beautiful interiors. Paul Whitman, well-known Pebble Beach artist, assisted by his son, Colden, have executed an interesting and colorful abstract mural on one wall.

The Surf Room will be available to the public for cocktails and dinner dancing Tuesday, Wednesdya, Thursday, Friday and Sunday nights after five o'clock. There will be a buffet dance every Thursday and Sunday evening. The regular Saturday night dinner dance will continue at Del Monte Lodge.

Ted Heneault will continue to serve as manager at The Beach Club and will be assisted by Eugene Lambert as Maitre d'Hotel; Alfio Bastianelli, Chef d'Cuisine. Bill Pierce and his orchestra will supply music for dinner dancing.

The regular day-time operation of The Beach Club wlil continue for members only.

Larry Sweeney, well known swimming and diving champion, is in charge of sports activities at the club. John Gardiner has recently been made tennis director.

The Stillwater Yacht Club, which has its headquarters at The Beach Club, has as its commodore, Matthew C. Jenkins, Pebble Beach; Edison A. Holt, Carmel Valley, vice-commodore; William T. Mahar, Carmel, secretary-treasurer; The Racing Committee consists of Jon Konigshofer, Paul Whitman and James W.A. Smith. Governors for the Yacht Club are John Boit Morse, William L. Hudson and Jon Konigshofer.

Yacht races are held every other Sunday, starting at 11 a.m.

Mr. Elstob, was with International Business Machines for more than 15 years and for several years, prior to coming to California, Comptroller of that organization. He came to California in 1944 as Comptroller of Marchant Calculating Machines Co. in Oaklnad. About a year ago he and his family came to Carmel as visitors, and have been real Carmelites. Mr. Elstob is now a practicing Certified Public Accountant here.

BUCKALEW HEADS CBS RADIO SALES

Edwin W. Buckalew, formerly CBS Western Division Manager of Station Relations, was recently appointed Manager of the San Francisco office of Radio Sales for the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc.

Subsequent to ten years in the advertising field, where he acted as account executive on accounts connected with financial, food, hotel and amusement businesses, he joined the Columbia Network in 1937 as Promotion Manager for Station K N X in Hollywood. Two years later he took over the promotion department for the Columbia Pacific Network in addition to the K N X post. In 1942 he established the Western Division Station Relations office, serving 11 (now 35) western stations and Hawaii.

SILHOUETTE

EDWARD W. COCHRANE....HE COVERED THE WORLD OF SPORTS

He Played The Games He Wrote About ...

It was in 1945 that Edward W. Cochrane, Supervising Sports Editor of the greatest newspaper chain in the world - the William Randolph Hearst Newspapers: International News Syndicate and King Features Syndicate - locked up his typewriter, and came to Carmel with his brilliant and beautiful wife "Bobby" - to stay. For 30 years Ed had written sports columns appearing in 441 newspapers... Pal of the mighty in the sports world, he covered the Olympics (following the Games in 1936 he remained in Europe for three months, and his volume that followed, "Impressions of Europe," was widely read)... Amazingly versatile, with hundreds of magazine articles to his credit, it was Ed Cochrane who wrote the script for Warner's Brothers' epic "Gentleman Jim", the life and times of Gentleman Jim Corbett, and topped it off by being technical director for the film which starred Erroll Flynn and Alexis Smith....

"It was all wonderful fun and a great life," Mr. Cochrane told me yesterday, "but for years Bobby and I had been planning just this - one way tickets to the foam-washed coast of California, the fishing coves of Monterey, the endless waving dunes of Carmel, the rolling green of Del Monte."

THE BUILDER

The Cochrane home on Lazarro Drive in Hatton Field Mesa is a superb expression of "Ed and Bobby".... We drew our own plans, devised our own color schemes, called in carpenters and plumbers, and here we are." The result? A redwood ranch house of magnificent proportions, with flowers bordering the beautiful patio of redwood rounds. As one enters the great sunlit living-room the awe-inspiring view comes first - the mountains, the valley, and the sea. Built on the top of a slope the great panoramic windows of the house afford vistas of unparalleled grandeur. Then, inside, one is surrounded by color, gay, charming and completely comfortable. World-famed hunting prints grace the redwood walls, great overstuffed chairs and rural maple furniture invite lounging and conversation. I came away with the impression of a blue room, but there are many colors in that room, all subtly blended to delight the eye and calm the spirit. The bright yellow kitchen with its rows of copper skillets; the study, 'done' in red leather; the soft blue-grey of the master bedroom... Modern? Yes, of course. But first and foremost it's home - the home of two widely travelled, brilliant, sensitive people who place simplicity and orderliness high in their rules of living.

THE MINISTER'S SON

Edward Cochrane was born in Rome, a small town in the Irish Hills of Michigan, shortly before the turn of the century. His father was a rare combination, both a minister and a newspaper publisher. Cochrane Sr., when not drawing his divine inspiration from the Baptist version of the Bible, sold his editorial comment through the Hartford (Michigan) Weekly, an influence which undoubtedly helped shape the career of the son. It is a favorite tale of newsmen today that Ed Cochrane was the world's only sports editor who neither drank nor smoked! Quoting The Sporting News of St. Louis:

"....Cochrane stands in a class apart...an odd mixture of the idealist and the practical, of the sentimentalist and the stern task-master ...champion of the underdog."

SCHOOL AND SPORTS

It was at the tender age of 12 that Ed, shifting for himself, left his family and Hartford and went to Grand Rapids. He sold newspapers on the street corners to pay his way through high school, from which he graduated in three years. He entered Kalamazoo College, and graduated a month before his nineteenth birthday!

All through his school years he played baseball and hockey, ran the 100-yard dash, and high jumped for the track and field team.

After college he went to the Staff of the Mexico City Herald, an English-language newspaper, and jumped from there to the police beat of the Denver Post.

In 1913, just past 19 years old, Ed was named sports editor of the Kansas City Journal. He held that position until 1932 when he joined the Chicago Herald-American, quickly climbing to the top of the Hearst sports writing chain.

ROMANCE

But I've gotten a bit ahead of the story....It was in 1928, in Kansas City, that the young editor met the sparkling and beautiful Roberta Martin who had just graduated from the University of Southern California. They were married in 1931, and ..."I'd already visited Carmel," Ed told me. "I was here in 1926 to play in the invitational golf tournament that marked the opening of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, and it wasn't difficult to persuade Bobby. We spent our honeymoon at the old Del Monte Hotel; and every chance we've gotten, we've been coming here ever since for visits - now we are here - to stay."

HE COVERED THE WORLD OF SPORTS...AND CAME HOME...TO CARMEL.

Edward Cochrane, who has covered the last three Olympic Games, 24 Kentucky Derbies, all the Santa Anita Handicaps, 20 national open golf tournaments, the World's Series dating back to 1913, is now one of the Peninsula's first citizens. Gentle, tolerant, and smiling, his interest in the welfare of the men of the armed forces has brought him to the chairmanship of the Board of Management of the USO, with Mrs. Cochrane at his side as chairman of the Monterey County Unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services and member of the Board of Directors, USO. They are both indefatigable in their efforts in behalf of the boys of the army and the navy. "They need us (men and women of the community) now even more than in the war days. Then they had the excitement of battle ahead of them, today their lives are routined. If we can give them the atmosphere of a home away from home, wholesome social contacts, wholesome fun,- we'll be satisfied," said Mr. Cochrane.

POSTSCRIPT

You'll see him 'round the town - a great blonde figure of a man. One of the world's great sports writers - he belongs to Carmel now, a fact to be proud of. He gladdens the heart and enriches the spirit.

I Remember When

by Joseph Treet

"Back before the depression there used to be giant street carnivals in Carmel. They would rope off several blocks on Ocean Avenue, and a couple on Dolores Street, and set up the booths and the amusements. Food was sold in the street, and the girls danced the hula to attract the crowds. Every store on Ocean Avenue was made into a booth, and the dancing crowds stayed on until the wee hours. One of Carmel's more distinguished citizens was in charge of the gambling concessions one of the more popular features of the fair. And when the carnival was over, everybody would go home happy and gay and lighter by ten to twenty dollars."

JOHN F. W. TYLER OF KMBY

John Tyler was born in the British Isles and schooled in London. Starring in athletics, he was captain of the cricket, football, and tennis teams. He visited, with various student groups, Germany, Italy, and France. Rather than go up to the university, he decided to earn a rather precarious living as a free-lance journalist. He has the distinction of having slept on the Thames embankment for four very wintry nights during this period. At the outbreak of the war in 1939 he was called to the colors and joined the famous 51st Highland Division, and was commissioned early in 1940 and sent to the western desert campaign in Africa. in 1942 he joined the Paratroop Regiment and took part in the raiding operations of the Mediterranean until hospitalized at the end of 1943, after which he was seconded to the British Legation in Beirut where his previous journalistic background stood him in good stead in the Press Attache's Department of the Legation. In 1946 he decided to leave the service of the British Foreign Office to take a position on the editorial staff of the British Broadcasting Corporation, but the call of the West Coast of America proved too strong, and Mr. Tyler, complete with Mrs. Tyler and the two little Tylers, arrived in the Monterey Peninsula area about a year ago. He is still a member of the exclusive British Institute of Journalists.

Police Judge C.S. Sorensen, left, past Grand Knight, Salinas Knights of Columbus, is shown here with John J. Walsh, deputy Grand Knight, of Carmel, before their trip to the Pacific Northwest with the bells of the Mission San Antonio de Padua, of Jolon. While stopping off at various cities to be received by mayors and also Governor Warren, of California, the pair plan to be in Portland, Ore., for the National Convention of Knights of Columbus Aug. 16-18. The public is invited free of charge to see colored movies of "Missions of California," and restoration films of the Mission San Antonio de Padua tonight at 8 p.m. in Crespi Hall at Carmelo Mission.

The HMCS Ontario, a 9,000 ton Canadian cruiser, will visit the port of Monterey from Aug. 20 to 23.

The Ontario, commanded by Capt. Hugh F. Pullen, OBE, RCN, and a crew of 600 officers and men, are making a good will tour of Pacific Coast ports this summer.

Fashion Show In 100 Year Theme

By Tom Bardos

The Centennial Fashion Show at the Pine Inn last Wednesday brought dress experts and amateurs from all over the Peninsula. The theme of the show was the similarity between the costume of 100 years ago and that of today.

Mrs. Gallatin Powers, the commentator, was wearing a gown of "hussy red," from the Gail Coupe Shop. The lunching audience saw, at twelve and one, both authentic gowns of 100 years ago, and dresses similar in style, but distinctive in their twentieth century CHIC

Mrs. Lester F. Hartigan, the curator of Monterey's First Theatre, modeled a black gown designed and made by Rhoda Johnson, the costumer of the First Theatre, in contrast to an authentic black velvet worn by Mrs. Margaret Parkhurst, and loaned for the occasion by Margaret Lang of Monterey. Kathie Von Meier, of Carmel, showed a dress made by her mother for the Centennial, from Putnam and Raggett' Paisley Prints.

The two most popular models were Christine and Noel Kelsey, 6 and 5, who modeled identical blue flowered dresses, playsuits, and cowgirl costumes, all from the Jack and Jill Shop. Willette Torras wore a black skirt from Harriet Duncan's with a bodice of yellow daisies made for the occasion by Virginia Neilson. Joanne Nix concluded the show with Chinese silk pyjamas in green silk and white flowered print, from Gumps of Carmel.

Mrs. Fred K. Fraser, the former Martha Stender, smiles at her new husband following their marriage ceremony in the Church of the Wayfarer, Sunday, July 31. Wayne Anderson, best man, and Mrs. Floyd Lynch, matron of honor, watch the assembled guests beyond the camera's eye. The newly-weds are now settled in their new home at Lobos and 2nd streets.

Mr. and Mrs. David James Comstock, nee Mimi Peterman, following their marriage at Carmel's Church of the Wayfarer on July 15.

Mimi is the daughter of Mrs. Emerson Howard Peterman and the late Emerson Howard Peterman of Los Angeles.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker Comstock of Playa del Rey and a nephew of Lugh Comstock of Carmel.

The nuptials were performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

TWO FAVORITE CARMELITES ARE WED

With the marriage of Becky Bell and Johnny Westover last Sunday afternoon, two of Carmel's favorite romancers became one! In the presence of more than 200 friends, to the strains of Lohengrin Becky, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell, walked down the aisle of the Church of the Wayfarer, on the arm of her father, at four o'clock. Her lace-yoked white satin gown with its voluminous train was enhanced by an exquisite veil reaching to the tip of the train. The gown was created by Becky's grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Wood. Her cascade bouquet was of white orchids, begonias and stephanitis. The ceremony was performed by the bride's maternal grandfather, the Rev. Samuel Wood. The two tiny flower girls, nieces of the bride were Moriana Anderson, in a frock os shell pink taffeta, and Susan Wood in heaven blue. They carried white baskets full of pink begonias. Becky's maid of honor, Miss Jan Mastin (Carmel High School, '48) wore a robe de style of turquoise blue taffeta; the bridesmaids, Betty Plaxton and Peggy Riker (also C.H.S., '48) were attired in tight-bodiced bouffant-skirted taffeta dresses, peach and sea-green respectively. They wore coronets of pale pink begonias and carried old-fashioned bouquets. The church was transformed into a bower white gladioli, dahlias and chrysanthemums by Irma Zampati of Monterey, who was also responsible for the wedding bouquets and the home decorations.

Bob Mullnix, Carmel High School, '46, acted as best man while the ushers were Dan Bell, the bride's brother, and Ted LaFleur.

The reception, held in the home of the bride's parents, was a gay and beautiful occasion. Well over 200 friends and relatives of the newly married pair witnessed the cutting of the three-tiered cake which was surrounded by tall white tapers. Mrs. Harry Anderson presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Samuel Wood poured tea, and Mrs. Thomas Wood poured coffee.

It was pretty Betty Plaxton of the bridal party who caught Becky's bouquet, and amidst a shower of rice, confetti and good wishes, the young pair started off for a camping honeyman in northern California, with the first stop the Hotel Fairmont in San Francisco. For travel

Guests crowded the beautiful Church of the Wayfarer to capacity to witness the marriage of Becky Bell to John Westover, Jr., last Sunday afternoon. Her two diminutive flower girls were her nieces, Moriana Anderson and Susan Wood.

Pebble Beach Wedding On Sept. 24

Jacqueline Work, daughter of the junior Thomas A. Works, of Pebble Beach, has decided on Saturday, September 24, for her wedding to Lt. Comdr. Robert Carroll Olson, USN. It will be an afternoon ceremony at The Carmel Mission with a reception following at The Beach Club, Pebble Beach.

"Jackie's" maid of honor will be Nancy Shuman, University of California classmate, and daughter of Mrs. Martin Flavin of Pebble Beach.

The bride-to-be has chosen four bridesmaids: Mimi Townsend, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. George L. Townsend, of Pebble Beach, who has only recently graduated from Virginia Intermont College at Bristol, Va.; Cynthia and Joan Carr, daughters of Mrs. Virginia E. Carr of Carmel. Joan attends the University of Oregon at Eugene and Cynthia will this year attend the Connecticut College for Women at New London. Jennifer Burnett, daughter of the Royal B. Burnetts, of Salinas, attended Anna Head School in Berkeley with the bride-to-be and will be a sophomore at the University of California this year where she is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

NAVAJO ART TO BE SOLD

Mrs. John Montague, curator of the Carmel Art Association and Miss Mary Smith whose sister, the late Miss Isabelle Smith willed the Navajo art treasures shown to the Church of the Wayfarer, select their favorite objects. The collection will be sold on August 24, the proceeds to be given for Navajo Relief. Mrs. Montague will lecture on the collection Monday evening August 22, in the recreation room of the Church of the Wayfarer. The interested public are invited.

The collection of American Indian articles given to the Church of the Wayfarer by Miss Mary Smith, on behalf of her sister, the late Miss Isabelle Smith, will be put on sale on Thursday, August 25th, the proceeds of the sale to go to the first, second, and third grades of the Navaho School at Hunter's Point, Arizona, which has been "adopted" by the Church of the Wayfarer.

The collection, consisting of baskets, bead belts, moccasins, and other authentic Indian articles, will be placed on exhibition from Monday night, August 22nd, through the date of the sale. On Monday night, Mrs. John Montague, curator of the Art Gallery in Carmel, will lecture on the history of the items in the collection which she has already priced. Mrs. D.E. Nixon, the chairman of the Committee on Navaho Work for the Church of the Wayfarer, has announced that the entire collection is offered to be sold at $1,000.

Of special interest to collectors is the fact that while Miss Smith's collection was built up through the years, from collectors and field trips made by Miss Smith herself, she compiled a catalog report on every piece, giving the dates and the historical facts concerning every item.

The collection consists of blankets, baskets, etc., the work of Indians from the Hopi, Navaho, Sioux, Payute, and other tribes.

BECKY BELL WEDDING

The bride's mother was attired in a gown of powder blue silk jersey beautifully contrasted with grey accessories and a picture hat enhanced with pink roses. Mrs. John Westover, mother of the groom, wore a softly detailed suit of navy blue with contrasting pink and blue hat and accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, Capestrano Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wood and Tom Wood, Jr., Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, Santa Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Loper, San Leandro; Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Bell, Sonora; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Whitt, Sonora; and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wood, Jr., of Sacramento. Also, Mrs. Marie Parker and her daughter, Miss Billie Westover, of Aberdeen, Washington.

Becky wore a suit of powder blue, a tiny pink feather hat, and black accessories. From her bridal bouquet she detached a corsage of orchids. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Westover will reside with Becky's parents until their new post-adobe home in Monte Vista Park is completed.

House Party For 17th Birthday

Miss Nancy Keogh, who with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keogh, is summering in Carmel, is planning a gala house-party this weekend in celebration of her 17th birthday.

The guests, arriving tomorrow morning, include the Misses Barbara Fenger, Kate Nigh and Eleanor Kent, all of San Francisco; also Suzanne Marion, of Tacoma, Washington,- all classmates of Nancy's school days at Miss Burke's in San Francisco. Boys who will beau the girls over the weekend include: Philip Fay Stevenson, William Macy and Edward McDonagh, all of San Francisco.

Tomorrow evening there will be a dinner dance at the Keogh home. Saturday afternoon the young guests will be feted with a beach party; and Saturday evening there will be a formal birthday dinner dance at Del Monte Lodge.

Nancy is a busy girl these days, attending her first term at Stanford and rushing Carmel-ward each weekend. Her debut, which will take place in San Francisco, is slated for next Christmas week.

ZENAS POTTER SAYS

"Regards to everyone" comes from Zenas Potter in a letter which Mrs. Nelly Montague allowed us to see. Mr. and Mrs. Potter who have been for some time in Firenze, were at the time of writing en route to Paris. "But," writes Mr. Potter, "We plan to return to Italy in the fall. We have a wonderful place where Mrs. Potter has a writing studio and I have one in which to paint. The view is breathtaking and the food is ambrosial... Now we are going for a tour through Normandy, then down through the Basque country with Mrs. Potter's sisters. From there to Switzerland, then back here... I have painted a dozen pictures. Hope you like them,- some people do. Europe surely is the place to paint. Pictures everywhere. Think I'll have material for a show when I get back.." Mr. Potter is treasurer of the Carmel Art Association Board of Directors and is active in Carmel's community life.

DR. McCORMICK ON VACATION

Vancouver bound, by motor, are Dr. Edward McCormick, Mrs. McCormick and their son Timothy. Both the doctor and his son are experienced and enthusiastic fishermen and expect to get in some fancy casting. Enroute they will visit McGill University where Timothy is looking forward to taking his degree in medicine.

C.Y.O. DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

"Sidewalk Cafe" decorations will add to the gaiety of the Catholic Youth Organization dance to be held this Saturday evening on the tennis courts of Carmel High School. An open air affair, dress will be semi-formal, and ladies are warned against being too sheer in the chilly night air!

Rolly Belwail, director of the C. Y. O. has a live wire committee working at top speed to make this teen-ager frolic the outstanding success of the summer.

The band of Ed Zubov and his Modenaires will 'give' from nine o'clock on, and the price? $1.50 per couple or stag.

The planning committee includes: Dee Sharpe, Eleanor Taggart, Ann Marie Tanous, June Updike, Anton Janda and Frank DeAmaral. Tickets may be obtained from any one of the committee or at the door. All teen-agers of the Peninsula are welcome.

$5,000 TO CHURCH BUILDING FUND

Captain Archer M. R. Allen, chairman of All Saints Church Building Fund has received a check for $5,000 for the Fund from Mrs. Carl Tucker of "Penwood", Mt. Kisco, New York. Mrs. Tucker's son, Luther, is head of Dwight Hall (the Students Christian Union) at Yale University, and it was while Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe, rector of All Saints Church, Carmel, was Chaplain at Yale that the two young ministers formed a friendship.

Additional Social

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Spencer Donovan, of Washington, D.C. and more recently San Francisco, have moved to Carmel with their daughter, Gael. They are living at the home of the Byron McGees in Hatton Fields.

Carmel's dentist-sculptor, G. Ridgley Parker, is now at work on two head-studies, one of Mrs. Cindy Pohlman, the other of John Cunningham. Mrs. Parker says the studio is in complete chaos.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Sawyer are entertaining for their house guests, Mrs. Harry Gillett and her sons, Eric and Kenneth ofHudson, Ohio. Mrs. Gillett is Mrs. Sawyer's brother-in-law.

Dr. and Mrs. Winton F. Swengel, with their daughter Miss Gail Swengel sailed on Tuesday aboard the Holland-American liner, the M. V. Dalerdyk, for Vancouver, B.C. and northwest Pacific coast ports.

The James P. McNeills, Jr., of Berkeley, where Jimmy is attending U.C., were the house guests of Colonel and Mrs. James P. McNeill this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Draper gave a party at the Rancho Del Monte Country Club for Mr. and Mrs. David Ness. Mr. Ness is with the United States diplomatic service.

Miss Elizabeth Niles entertained two guests of renown last week. Dr. Elizabeth Adamson, psychiatric councillor of the Westchester, New York Juvenile Court, and her assistant, Mrs. Susan Baker.

Dr. Adamson, who was a classmate of Miss Niles at Wellesley College, is a graduate also of Johns Hopkins University and spent some time at Columbia University. One of the nation's foremost in the psychiatric field, she is primarily interested in the problems of the under-privileged teenagers. Dr. Adamson, who makes her home in Scarsdale, New York, was visiting the Monterey Peninsual for the first time. "Her superlatives, concerning our scenery and 'atmosphere' were really very satisfactory" said Miss Niles.

It seems that the Carmel Valley Horse Trough Flickers have 'caught on' with Carmel's young crowd, Seen gazing in consternation at the romancing of Rudolph Valentino in "Son of the Sheik" on Sunday evening were: Mrs. Francis Mastin and daughter, Jan; Phil Wettengel and Nancy Pohlman; Basil Allaire and Leigh McKenney; Bill Marquardt; Ann Rigdon and Bob Bell; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horne and their daughters, Barbara and Mary Eleanor. Also Kathie von Meier. h Carol McKenney, and Mrs. Julian von Meier

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Crocker havereturned to their Pebble Beach home this week following several months in Europe and a winter at their home in Florida. Mrs. Henry Potter Russell entertained Sunday in their honor at her Carmel Valley ranch home.

With reports of a grand time Dr. Gordon Ridgley Parker, Mrs. Parker and young Gordon Jr., returned last week from a 10 day vacation of fishing and hunting at the Mattole River, Humboldt County. Adding to the fun were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. John Spalinger of Carmel and Mrs. Spalinger's brother, Bill, of San Mateo.

WHO IS IT?

William H. Satchell is featured in this week's "Who is it?" Mr. Satchell, secretary of the Carmel Sanitary Board, was born in London, England, and served in the first World War as an officer in France. Before coming to Carmel, he was owner of a department store in Coalinga, California, where he served a term as mayor. A world traveller, Mr. Satchell lived for a while in New Zealand. He has one son, William H. Satchell, Jr.

NEWS COMMENTATOR

James Abbe, veteran war correspondent, author and journalist of all sorts, including press photographer, originated a network news commentator program last week (for one week only) from Station KMBY on the Monterey Peninsula.

He will broadcast from various cities all over the country on a one-week basis on a network of stations.

Mr. Abbe's career brought him exclusive interviews with Stalin in the Kremlin, Hitler in his Munich Brown House, Mussolini on the wing in Italy, Franco on the battlefields of Spain, and Roosevelt in the White House.

THEATRE NOTES

Edward Van Houtte's "The Rose of California" to be produced at the Forest Theatre early in September is the story of Conchita Arguello, daughter of the Commandante of San Francisco and her golden romance with His Excellency, the Privy Councellor and Grand Chamberlain of His Imperial Majesty of Russia, Count Nicolai de Resanoff.

The play unravels the skein of the birth, progress, and tragic finale of Spanish California's greatest love story. From the days when the barefoot friars and proud military had begun to sculpture the Royal Way, the Camino Real, in the land of California, until the year 1808, according to our chronicles, Spain ruled supreme in idyllic ease and in the fullness of her regal and ecclesiastical power over the new land of the Pacific.

Count Nicolai and his crew arrived on the shores of San Francisco, then known as Yerba Buena, in 1808.

Consternation spread high throughout peaceful California with the cry that the Russians had violated the royal mandates of illustrious Spain by entering the forbidden port of St. Francis. The threatened disaster evolved the jeweled romance in the crown of Spanish California between Count Nicolai and Conchita Arguello.

Edward Van Houtte has written a thrilling play which has the special appeal of timeliness during the Centenniel period. Tryouts for the cast were held on Tuesday evening at Sunset School. And there is still a call out for Spanish dancers, stagehands, scenery artists and extras. Carmelites who wish to participate in this historic production should get in direct touch with Mr. Van Houtte.

There are just two more weekend opportunities for Peninsula dwellers and visitors to see the First Theatre's hilarious production of "On to Frisco" with olio!

For those interested in Americana plus an evening of rare fun, this is a must.

This week's selection by the Carmel Film Society features the film "Alexander Nevsky" with the famous musical score written by Prokofieff. The picture, which was completed in 1938, is regarded by some critics as one of the most important films in motion picture history.

The film tells the story of the attempted Eastern invasion by Teutonic Knights of the Thirteenth Century. Hero of the struggle against the German Knights disguised as "crusaders', was Alexander, named Nevsky after his defeat of a Swedish invasion on the Neva. The photography was handled by Edward Tisse under the direction of Seregi Eisenstein, with the assistance of D.I. Vassiliev.

Also selected by the Carmel Film Society this Friday and Saturday at the Woman's Club is a color film of a Chinese shadow play. The complete program will be shown at 7 p.m. and again at 9:15 p.m.

The shadow play first appeared in China sometime during the Tenth Century. The actors perform behind an illuminated screen of donkey skin parchment beautifully painted in transparent color.

The picture begins with a shortened version of one of the most popular Chinese fairy tales, "The White Snake Lady."

On Vacation, Eating Should Be An Adventure.

JUST OUT OF TOWN — MONTEREY AND VICINITY

Carmel's salt sea breezes tantalize the appetite ... the Peninsula's restaurants do far, far more than feed you! Whatever your yen in the way of food ... whatever your desire in atmosphere ... you will find the answer on these pages ... you will Dine Differently! Classifications: B-Breakfast ... L-Lunch ... D-Dinner ...

RIGHT IN CARMEL

The LOUISIANA ROOM in La Ribera Hotel serves Creole foods that are ambrosial! Plenty of "old South" atmosphere plus beautiful, gaily costumed waitresses (L.D. and all-hour snacks). ...TIP-TOP, a typical Carmel Tea Room, serving excellent mansatisfying food. Carmel artists' pictures on view. (L.D.) ... BLUEBIRD, oldest rendezvous of the natives, rich food delightfully served, pastries and hot rolls! (L.D.) ... PINE INN GARDEN RESTAURANT, Alfresco or indoor service - what you'd expect of one of Carmel's leading hotels, (B.L.D.) ... WHITNEY'S, Intimate bar, grand food and Wibby, the MC! Always fun, always satisfying, (L.D.) ... COOKSLEY'S HOB NOB, Table or counter service deluxe, delicious cuisine, open all day for snacks, (L.D.) ... SADE'S, gathering spot of the sophisticates from cocktail time on, handsome English-atmosphere dining-rooms, (D.) ... NORMANDY PATIO AND DINING ROOM RESTAURANT, Watch the world go by, and watch your weight! Really elegant food in a plush atmosphere (L.D.) ... SU VECINO, Tops in authentic Mexican cuisine plus colorful atmosphere, a take-home counter of nearly everything in the world that's Mexican fare (L.D.) ... LA MAISONETTE, New and definitely Parisian, that chef can do amazing things! Counter service for the hurried (L.D.) ... BETSY JARVIS, Nationally famed for her personally supervised cuisine 'not a can or frozen product in the place', Charming home atmosphere in her own house. (L.)

JUST OUT OF CARMEL

DOWN THE COAST

GALLATIN'S with Lou and Gal making you welcome. Perched on a cliff, the view is breathtaking, Drinks, steaks and friendly chitchat, all yours! (D.) ... NEPENTHE, featured by the San Francisco columnists, definitely tops, it is unique in its decor, its bar service and cooked to order cuisine, Sunday morning breakfast is a feature - little pig sausages 'n everything, not to be missed! (D. plus all-evening service).

MONTEREY AND VICINITY

BAMBOO GARDEN, Food for the Mandarins! Chinese dishes such as you've never dreamed of in truly Chinese surroundings. (D. plus all-evening snack service) ... 17 MILE COTTAGE COURT, Table and counter service of the food mother used to serve! Hot breads, mouthmelting pies and such, (B.L.D.) ... CASA MUNRAS, Hotel service of excellent food, dancing to the music of Arnold McCoy, very elegant bar - Smorgasbord. (B.L.D.) ... MISSION INN, Old world atmosphere, authentic antiques, plus an oh-so-modern Cocktail Lounge and the Estrada Room, done in the 1950 manner!

Parent Problems

A Little Child's Reasoning

By CARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

YESTERDAY we considered simple ways of stimulating the child of school-age to think during family conversation. We noted that the first essential is a companionable, comfortable family atmosphere. We observed that without knowing it, members of the family often make statements of things that happened which they did not see happen and which no one had told them did happen. They knew because they reasoned. We gave a few samples and promised more for today. Here are a few. Anyone can easily make more of them.

1. Returning from the barbershop, Orson said he saw in the barbershop a nurse, a farmer and a bus motorman. When asked if he knew these persons or if someone had told him what each person did, he answered 'no.' Then how could he have known?

2. "Who has been using my paints?" said little Phyllis. How might she have known that some person had been using her paints?

No One Told Him

3. Gerald had gone to work when his father got up in the morning. The father said as he walked to the kitchen: "Oh, Gerald forgot to take his lunch with him." How could the father have known this? Nobody had told him.

4. A blind man said to his neighbor: "How long have your honeysuckles been in bloom?" How could the blind man know the honeysuckles were in bloom?

5. After Cedric had gathered the eggs he said: "Fifteen of our hens did not lay today." How could he have known this?

6. Said Mr. Wilcox: "Look at the whirlwind up there over that dusty road." Did he really see the wind? What made Mr. Wilcox say what he did?

7. "My pie is burning," shouted Mrs. Moats, as she jumped from her chair in the living room and rushed to the kitchen. How could she have known this?

Crippled Dog

8. "A crippled dog has gone by here," said Ernestine. She had not seen the dog. How did she know the dog must have been crippled?

9. "Julia, you must have eaten onions for lunch," said Annabelle. "I did," said Julia. How could Annabelle have guessed so well?

10. "Some animal slept here on the grass last night," said Mr. Fritz. How did Mr. Fritz know this? He did not see the animal.

Here are some questions to challenge the younger child to use what is already in his head. You may be amazed at how young a child may be who can answer some or all these questions. You and an older child can easily make up many more for his head to work on.

Which has the longer neck, a goose or a hen? Who can eat more, you or your father? What is the difference between a cherry and an apple? What color are most tomatoes? Most garden beets? Which breaks more easily, a wire nail or a toothpick? Which is stronger, rope or thread? When do we see more birds, in summer or in winter? Why do we not dig in the garden when the ground is very wet?

Other Questions

Which are bigger, your ears or your eyes? Is ice cream cold or warm? Which fight with their teeth, children or dogs? Is an automobile smaller or larger than a bus? Does it ever rain when there are no clouds in the sky? Does a cat take off her day clothes and put on night clothes? When your mother drives a car, does she sit in the back seat or the front seat? How many seeds has a peach? Does a boy ten years old have whiskers on his face? If you held a mouse in your hand would it feel softer or harder than a spool? Would you rather hold an apple or a bee in your hand? Why are plants set out in the evening rather than in the middle of the day?

Would you rather fall into deep snow or a puddle of water? How do you know that birds can hear? Do you eat soup with a fork, spoon, or knife? Can you see through a glass of water? Through a glass of milk? Which do you wash more often, your feet or your hands? Why? What's the difference between smiling and laughing? Can you sneeze any time you choose to sneeze? How do you act when you are scared? Can you feel sad and happy at the same time? (My bulletin, "Letting Little Children Learn," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

CHEF'S SPECIAL

KITCHEN CAPERS
by
By ALICE DENHOFF

IN summertime we call a halt to elaborate cooking, and beckon the cook to come out of the kitchen! To cope with her problems of three square meals a day, we suggest the simplest of menus, built around quick-cooked dishes, main dish salads and cold meat platters.

Today's menu planner knows full well that her family needs as much meat and other protein foods as at any other time of the year, though of course, neither rich nor hearty. Thus the mention of meat in the summer diet does not mean the daily inclusion of chops and steaks, but instead, emphasis on cold cuts.

Arranging a platter of cold cuts artistically, is one of a cook's own creative outlets. An especially pretty table centerpiece is a platter of cold cuts arranged around a handsome lettuce cupped salad.

Choice of Filling

A happy choice of fillings for the crisp lettuce cups is one of avocados and canned pork luncheon loaf, or spiced ham. The pink and green of the twosome catches the eye, and the flavor combination is palate-pleasing. Onion and lemon juice point up the flavors of meat and fruit, and diced celery adds crispness to the mixture.

Around this centerpiece arrangement an assortment of cold cuts, such as rounds of salami, triangles of ham, circles of bologna. A meat platter so nicely fixed would enhance a summer buffet guest table, or it would be perfect for supper for the family. A hot bread served with a cold platter is in order, as would be some hot consomme to provide the proper and necessary "hot and cold" contrast. With a package or so of those wonderful mixes it is a cinch to whip up a batch of deliciously delicate hot rolls.

Cooked Asparagus

Try marinated cooked asparagus rolled up in slices of ham sausage loaf for a nice item, or make cornucopias of bologna or pimiento loaf, and fill them with cottage cheese seasoned with chives or caraway. Delicious!

A "stack" of meat slices, surrounded with deviled eggs, with watercress sprigs between meat and eggs, would look and taste fine. Or use an oblong platter and place a diagonal row of bologna cups filled with cabbage and apple (or carrot) slaw. Bologna slices curl up easily when lightly pan-fried. On each side of the bologna cups place slices of salami. Fill in the corners of the platter with square-shaped meat slices and watercress sprigs. Tomato cups filled with whole kernel corn salads go nicely with a platter of cold meat, too.
